Dear Mr. Schiavi:

I just noticed that the Bourne Cable Advisory Committee is looking for members, hence this last-minute inquiry.

I recently retired after a career that included over twenty years in corporate Information Technology.

I have relevant technical experience in networking and telecom which might be useful to the committee. (I should say that the technologies I'm familiar with are not exactly the same as those used to deliver broadband to residences and small businesses. But I would be happy to become more knowledgeable.)

I also have IT project management experience and expertise in systems security which could be relevant. Above all, I am a happy team player interested in being helpful in whatever way I can.

Please feel free to contact me any time by email or phone.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey Leshin
